The Sargent Johnson Gallery presents, One Year Later . . . A Community Photographic Exhibit of the 56th Presidential Inauguration

“One Year Later,” seeks to recapture the energy, emotion, and enthusiasm that swept the Bay Area and the entire world last January as we collectively watched the first African-American President be sworn into office. Several local community members, including the AAACC Executive Director worked tirelessly to campaign for Barack Obama and also flew over 3,000 miles to witness the historic occasion. This exhibition will highlight, celebrate, and give a first-hand perspective on what it was like to be in Washington D.C and experience history unfold.

This exhibition will be shown from January 20th – May 27, 2010 on the 3rd floor Hall Gallery. An Opening Reception will be held exactly one year later from the 56th Presidential Inauguration festivities on January 20, 2010 from 6-8pm.
